

EAI CORE series publishes EAI conferences using EAI open community review platform leading to objective, transparent and globally promoted research sharing.

EAI conferences are indexed in Elsevier EI, EUDL, Scopus, Google Scholar, EBSCO Host, DBLP, Cross-ref, Microsoft Academic and Thomson Reuters.

ELSEVIER EI

EUDL
European Union Digital Library

Google
Scholar

 THOMSON REUTERS

 dblp
computer science bibliography

crossref

 Microsoft Academic

 EBSCOhost

Scopus[®]

EAI CORE soft proceedings are available at the conference and published in post-conference final formats.

EAI scope covers four key research clusters: IoT, Smart Cities, E-health, Future Internet and Applications.

EAI is a global non-profit organization that offers free access and membership to researchers, engineers, IT users and entrepreneurs. It provides open platform for cooperation, recognition and promoting ideas and opportunities. EAI is present on all continents through its activities and membership.

